ABOUT JOYCE CARACCI

Joyce Caracci was born into a sharecropping family in rural Neshoba County Mississippi where she graduated as "Miss Arlington High" class of 1950. Her lifelong commitment to health care began with her studies at St. Dominic's Hospital in Jackson.

In 1976, Joyce, an experienced nurse, and her husband Victor, founded Sta-Home Health Agency, Inc. and began providing home health care services across Mississippi. Joyce was also passionate about children, childbirth and pro-life ministries, and contributed tirelessly to these causes both personally and financially.
